WINS HER POINT; VACATES ALAMO

MISS DE ZAVALA DEPARTS IN TRIUMPH AFTER WITHDRAWAL OF DEPUTY SHERIFF.

DISPUTE REFERRED TO COURT

Is in High Spirits After Siege of Sixty Hours, Subsisting on Smuggled Food.

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 13.—Miss Adina De Zavala vacated the Alamo property this evening at 6 o'clock, but she in no sense surrendered. She came out with colors flying, and only after the foe had agreed to submit the question in controversy to arbitration by the courts of Texas.

She never left the Alamo at all until after the two deputy sheriffs who have been on guard, departed from the building and left her in undisputed possession. She then made a formal transfer of the property to Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds Day, who will hold the property in the name of the governor until such time as the suit at Houston is finally decided by the courts, with both parties to the controversy agreeing to abide the result.

The demand of Miss De Zavala that the San Antonio suit be included was dropped on the understanding that the Houston case would be brought to a speedy trial. While the date has not been fixed, it is agreed by both parties that neither will ask for a continuance, but that the trial shall take place at the earliest possible time.

The attorneys at Houston, Lane, Jackson, Kelley and Wolters, who represent Mrs. Rebecca J. Fisher, would not agree to include the San Antonio suit in the agreement, stating that they knew nothing of the questions at issue here. They did agree, however, that the Houston case would be given a speedy trial.

One of the contentions of Miss De Zavala was that, after repeated efforts, she had not succeeded in getting the Houston case tried. The agreements for a speedy trial met her approbation and the agreement was signed.

The matters will now be carried into the courts, and a long and bitter fight will result.

Superintendent Day is now in possession. He arranged for a watchman for the building, and after conferring with the governor will decide as to its disposition, pending a settlement in the courts.

In High Spirits.

Despite her long vigil in the Alamo, Miss De Zavala left in high spirits. She was rather begrimed from exposure and rather faint from lack of food, but was brave and defiant. Her food today, up to the time she left, consisted of only oranges, which were smuggled her this morning by her attorney, Nelson Lytle. Miss De Zavala received many telegrams from over the state and the United States congratulating her on her stand.

The following telegram was received signed by John B. Adams, a descendant of President John Adams:

"Miss De Zavala, in the Alamo: Win or lose, we congratulate you upon your splendid patriotism and courage. We are proud of you. Texas should be." Mrs. Wharton Bates wired as follows:

"Do not surrender the Alamo unless the others turn over the church. Hold your ground unless all is satisfactory."

The Post-Dispatch, one of the leading afternoon papers of St. Louis, also wired as follows:

"Miss Adina De Zavala, Commandant of the Alamo: Will you send through the Post-Dispatch a message to the women of St. Louis, who are watching with great interest your own gallant defense of the Alamo."

After leaving the Alamo, Miss De Zavala said:

"I did not surrender. I merely left matters in dispute to arbitration. The opposing faction had vacated the property and withdrawn their armed deputies before I turned it over to Superintendent Day."

DOINGS AT GUTHRIE

ADOPTS MANY APPROPRIATION BILL ITEMS.

ECONOMY PREACHED

Tillotson Offers for Senator Davis Bill Providing for Gross Receipts Tax.

Guthrie, Feb. 13.—The house adopted more than half of the general appropriation bills in the committee of the whole this afternoon, and the figures, as reported in the bill, were sustained save in two instances.

The stenographer in the governor's office was reduced from $1,200 to $1,000 per year, and the chief clerk to the corporation commission, who was provided for at the rate of $2,000 per annum, was lowered to $1,800. This position is held by J. B. Chapman, secretary of the present democratic state committee and secretary of the committee during the last state campaign.

The salaries in general, compared with the state of Kansas, are some lower, while slightly higher in some instances than those of Texas. In various attempts to lower the pay of stenographers, their work was compared with that of school teachers, who, it was stated, only received $40 per month, and with farm hands, who could only command $25 per month.

Mr. Norvell of Tulsa, wanted to make the place in the governor's office pay only $60 per month, as it was a "steady job" and he stated that the governor had said to him that he was in favor of the strictest economy, retrenchment and reform. Mr. Murray objected to a rehearsal of what the governor was alleged to have said.

"The governor," Mr. Murray stated, "has the advantages of the executive message, and it is presumed that he will communicate with the legislature in that way and not by having his conversations repeated."

At this juncture, Miss Kate Barnard State Commissioner of Charities and Correction, appeared on the floor of the house, moving from seat to seat with an appropriation bill in her hand.

Speaker Murray read the rule against state officers lobbying and announced that it would be enforced. An amendment giving to the lieutenant governor a stenographer at $900 per year was defeated.

Gross Receipts Tax.

Among the bills offered in the house was one by Mr. Tillotson for Senator Davis, levying a gross revenue tax upon public service and other corporations. It is proposed to tax express companies 2 1/2 per cent, telegraph companies 2 3/4 per cent, electric light and gas companies 1 1/4 of 1 per cent, collecting and commercial agencies 1 1/2 of 1 per cent, stock car companies 3 per cent, gas pipe lines 2 per cent, sleeping car companies 5 per cent, insurance companies and companies mining coal and mineral oils 2 per cent, electric car lines 3 1/4 of 1 per cent, gas and oil wells 1 1/2 of 1 per cent, and business houses selling pistols 50 per cent on the goods sold.

After a somewhat spirited debate, the senate passed the concurrent resolution by Senator Graham extending the time until July 1 for requiring railroads to equip their depots according to the jim crow law. The law as approved by the governor on Dec. 18 became effective Feb. 16. In support of the resolution, it was stated that the change would cost the railroads $250,000, which in itself was enough to show the undertaking was a great one.

In opposing the resolution, Senator Billups charged that the railroads had already reduced their service in Oklahoma and relieved the people of inconveniences in order to make sentiment against stringent control by the state. The senate voted down amendments to make the extension until May 1 and June 1.

Headlight Bill.

Final passage was also obtained upon the Franklin-Roddie bill requiring railroads to equip their engines with 1,500-candlepower electric headlights. Senator Franklin's statement that the bill was "partly from Arkansas, partly from Texas, partly from Oklahoma, but none from Kansas" drew from

Senator Brazell the statement that "if there was anything in the statutes of either Arkansas or Texas which had not been offered, he hoped they would be proposed in a lump, so the agony would be over."

Senator Brazell, it was stated, came to Oklahoma from Missouri via the state of Kansas.

"When we take a law from Texas," said Senator Roddie, who was the other sponsor of the bill, "we take it from a state which has legislated in the interest of the people, and not from Kansas, where the legislation has been in the interest of corporations."

The mining bill by Senator Redwine was passed to a third reading, and the substituted bill by Senator Thomas, authorizing the supreme court to settle divisions of the property between the old and new counties was passed finally.

Under motion of yesterday, the senate devoted an hour today to eulogies upon Abraham Lincoln. The speakers were Gov. Haskell, Senators Brownlee, Thomas, Stanford and Blair.

State Capital Campaign Opens. Oklahoma City, Ok., Feb. 13.—The Chamber of Commerce this afternoon extended an invitation to the legislators inviting them to spend next Tuesday in this city as guests of the business men at a dinner and to discuss the removal of the legislature to this city.

If the invitation is accepted the legislators will be brought to this city on a special train. The business men will probably make a move at once toward securing the location of the state capitol in this city.

Senate Committee Reports adversely. Washington, Feb. 13.—The senate committee on Indian Affairs today reported adversely a bill introduced by Senator Owen appropriating $200,000 to establish a government school in Oklahoma for the teaching of Indian art. It was the plan to teach Indian children how to do bead work make fancy baskets, etc.

HASKELL, MURRAY, CRUCE.

The political precepts in the more positive forces and far reaching effects in the nation today in fact and in spirit are more distinctly portrayed and more significantly exploited in the measures written in the constitution of the State of Oklahoma than elsewhere on earth. Students of the national trend and political attitude of affairs will award the correctness of this assertion. Of the two national political conventions which meet this summer to draft a platform of principles and select the party's standard bearers, in the common event of things, the one more nearly embodying the principles of kindred to the precepts obtaining in Oklahoma's constitution and more nearly selecting that man in sympathy with such provisions would be the party enthroned in power by the voice of the people of the nation. If the electorate of the nation untrammelled and afforded opportunity to employ their minds in dispassionate consideration of the problems of which the proper settlement concern most vitally their future welfare, it is a dead moral cinch that the foregoing conclusions are correct and sound. Bryan, the democratic and unsubsidized press of the United States, the democratic statesman in and out of congress with one accord acclaim the greatness of Oklahoma's charter of liberty—its constitution, and that the application of its basic principles, the privileges of the people to rule, should indelibly mark the policies formulated at the national democratic convention as will be conveyed to the people through the platform of the party. On account of Oklahoma's constitution and the capable administration of affairs of the state today, the great young commonwealth through its accredited delegations will appear giant-like at the national democratic convention at Denver this summer.

When the state democratic convention meets at Muskogee on the 22nd inst., there is most obviously a duty which should be construed a privilege, that it will be afforded the opportunity to perform, and that is the selection of the two principal constructors and defenders of Oklahoma's constitution, the Hon. Wm. H. Murray and Governor C. N. Haskell, as delegates at large to the national convention. The advocacy of the selection of these two remarkable men as part of the state delegation in no wise reflects contemptuously or even suggests that the most regardful and honoring consideration is not held for numbers and numbers of capable, militant democrats who have been strong factors in the promotion of the welfare of the party of the state and all worthy things which make demand. There is the Hon. J. B. Thompson, chairman of the state democratic campaign committee, than whom no man is entitled to more substantial reward on account of his services in behalf of statehood and the party. The intelligence with which he conducted the affairs of the party during the campaign justly entitles him to leading party preferment. If he chose, he should be selected one of the delegates at large or presidential elector at large. He is clearly within the class to run at large.

The city of Ardmore has a candidate again in the person of the Hon. Tom D. McKeown, who has been outside of Pontotoc county who holds the confidence and good will of her people more strongly than Lee Cruce. In the democratic primaries he beat Haskell for governor in this county, even over the protest of the News. His conduct subsequent to the primaries has been such as to entrench him more firmly in the regard of our people. The News, as it sees the light, without any political axes to grind or sugar bowl extended, believes the Pontotoc county convention should recommend to the state convention that three of the delegates at large be composed in the honorable personages of C. N. Haskell, Wm. H. Murray and Lee Cruce.

It has been rumored that some discontent had appeared in certain quarters over the proposal to send men to the national convention already the recipient of party favors and at present established in office. Such discontent is unfounded. William H. Murray is the resident of our neighbor county on the south. If he had not earned favorable recognition on account of his public acts the length and breadth of the country, and within this state if there had not been implanted in the hearts of its honest yeomanry, un-governed by political jealousies and contentions, a wholesome regard for him based on their comprehension of his great and valuable attainments in their behalf, the fact that he is our neighbor firmly established as one of the staunch farmer citizens of our neighbor counties should, alone, award the most friendly consideration of his name when it shall be presented to the Pontotoc convention. Bill Murray is not a candidate for delegate at large to the national convention. He is giving the devoted employment of an intensely active mind to the important duties of the speakership of the house of representatives.

It has always been the custom in the various states of the union when delegates to the national convention should be selected, to select from among the men of affairs within the party as delegates at large those citizens of the state, if any, who had become national political figures and were factors in the determination of those policies which should govern the party in the national party contests. Therefore it generally occurs that it is necessary to select the delegates at large from among the leading official representatives of the state, for it is they who ordinarily are naturally better acquainted with state craft and the general political exigencies. It is the imperative duty of the people to send to the national conventions those citizens of the strongest political grasp and of proven loyalty to their cause. A monumental responsibility involves on the delegates at a national democratic convention, for the permanent peace, prosperity and happiness of the people of a vast empire may be visibly dependent on the wisdom of their actions.

The News believes that Mr. Murray and Mr. Haskell should be selected by the state convention as delegates at large to Denver, even though they should advise their friends against promoting their candidacy. Even though the governor should stay away from Muskogee and ask that his name be withheld from the consideration of the convention, still, we believe it is a matter of party regard that he be elected. It would be a most becoming method of endorsement of the governor's administration until now which should be endorsed by the convention. The measure of the regard of the editor that there be accomplished what is herein urged is based principally on his ambition to have Oklahoma, not only retain the splendid position she now occupies in the regard of the democracy of the nation, but to take advantage of its present enviable position by placing those citizens at the head of the democratic state delegation to whom is mainly due the distinction of establishing Oklahoma nationally so favorably, and who, on account of which, could establish the delegation from this new state one of the more influential ones in the national convention.

The motive of the editor of the News in advocating this earnestly the selection of Mr. Murray and Gov. Haskell as delegates at large to the national convention is produced because of his belief that such action is politically due the gentlemen and will reflect advantageously on the party of the state and even will help to promote the intelligent workings of the national convention. There is certainly no overwhelming personal regard for the governor and the speaker aiding my devoted political support and desire to see political justice obtain, for not much more than ordinary civility accompanies our interchange of greetings when we meet. Ourselves or our house have never asked from either direct or indirect political or personal favor.

It would not be characteristic of the broad minded fellows who will compose the county convention Saturday should they permit any prejudice or enmity based on the old primary fight to influence their actions when they come to vote on the resolution of endorsement of the men mentioned herein as delegates at large to the national convention. In all probability without a dissenting voice, the Hon. Tom D. McKeown will be endorsed by his county as a delegate to the national convention to be selected from the district caucus of the 4th congressional district. There is not likely a man in the state any more certain to be selected by the state convention as delegate than Ada's candidate.

A POLISHED ADDRESS.

In giving an account of proceedings in the House on Wednesday the State Capital says this:

Hon. Henry Furman of Ada, was called on to close the addresses. He was heartily cheered as he came to the platform. His speech was one of the most polished efforts that has ever been heard on the floor. He declared that in the light of today's great pro-

perity, peace and happiness that both were right and that it "was for better thus."

He paid a splendid tribute to the glory of the American flag and declared that the greatest American institution was the unity of purpose and endeavor to build up a more splendid America, and pronounced patriotism to be the bulwark of American greatness.

The Hon. Henry Furman is being boomed up the state for chairman of the state convention. Pontotoc county could not be more delighted to do any thing than boom "Uncle Henry" for any thing he could want or might take, but he does not want his name advanced by the county convention for any state position. He is one of the smiling ones of the rank.

Times were interesting in the house at Guthrie Thursday. Murray landed on a yellow newspaper reporter. Miss Barnard branded a lobbyist and Ashby Harrison, and the sergeant at arms got mad. All this smoke is a sign that the boys are alive, and good laws and wholesome laws are looked for.

The county convention will not be as the one met for like purpose four years ago and the good Lord forbid. The prospects are that the county convention will be a most harmonious one. This is as it should be.

Many of the county democratic delegates Saturday, as is the usual custom, will establish headquarters up at the News joint. They're always as welcome as the flowers in May.

Centrahoma, not Owl, is an avowed candidate for the county seat.

The colonel had put up for the night at a wretched hotel in a village in the southwest, and when ready to leave in the morning he was handed a bill of three dollars. He was no kicker, but that thing seemed so much like robbery that he said: "Landlord, the meals I have eaten have been poor—very poor." "I don't dispute it," was the reply. "And the room was simply a rat hole." "Mighty pore room, sah." "And yet you have charged me just the same as if I had stopped at a first-class hotel." "Yes, I had to do it." "And will you kindly explain?" persisted the colonel. "Well, it's like this, sah. I traded a sawmill for this tavern a month ago. I don't know nothing about the business and everybody says I'll fail; and I know I will, but meantime I'm going to do the best I can. I can't better the rooms nor the fodder, but I can charge at the rate of three dollars a day and make every traveler think he's been putting in time at Waldorf-Astoria. Three dollars, please. No mistake about your bill, sah."

LETTERS WIPED OUT DEBT.

Tender Missives Certainly for Once Answered Good Purpose.

There was great rejoicing in the New Brooklyn church in Sicklerville, N. J., when the last dollar of the debt against the parsonage was paid. The money was raised in a popular manner. Every female member of the church wrote a letter to all the boys that were her schoolmates in bygone days, no matter where they now lived, soliciting contributions. The men members likewise wrote to their schoolgirl sweethearts of long ago. Many a pleasant correspondence developed, and it is said some of the letters were calculated to revive the spark of affection that was kindled when the writers were youngsters, but as husbands and wives were allowed to read one another's letters not a case of jealousy is recorded. The money came in so fast that in a short time the entire debt was paid-off, and as the contributions are still coming in the parsonage will be brightened by a new coat of paint.

Stop That Cold

To check early colds or Grippe with "Preventics" means sure defeat for Pneumonia. To stop a cold with Preventics is safer than to let it run and be obliged to cure it afterwards. To be sure, Preventics will cure even a deeply seated cold, but taken early—at the green stage—they break, or head off these early colds. That's surely better. That's why they are called Preventics. Preventics are little Candy Cold Cures. No Quinine, no physic, nothing alarming. Nice for the children—and thoroughly safe too. If you feel chilly, if you sneeze, if you ache all over, think of Preventics. Promptness may also save half your usual sickness. And don't forget your child. If there is feverishness, nightcough, hoarseness, probably lies Preventics' greatest efficiency. Sold in the boxes for the post, also in the boxes of 4 Preventics. Insist on your druggist giving you

What About Lawyers?

A contributor to "The Pilgrim's Serp" in the American Magazine says: "At each turn in the complicated finance of business the dim but definite trail of a lawyer may be seen. Each investigation brings out clearly that at some point in deals or contracts or arrangements that evade or break laws one or more lawyers were in active operation devising ways and means to give these operations a specious appearance of legality, or cover up their real meaning. In some cases, as in the Standard Oil investigation, distinguished lawyers boast before the open court of their ingenuity in defeating the purpose of the laws of the United States. In the Metropolitan investigation you will find that every one of those schemes that have deceived or robbed the stockholders and the public was invented by a great lawyer, and for a huge fee. Abe Hummel, the criminal lawyer, was disbarred for wrongful practices. What is the Bar association going to do about these others? We have found that it is not the low criminals in politics (those who buy the privilege to cater to vice) who are the real corruptors. It is the men of power, who have larger game and by whose sufferance the lower ones live, who are defeating the aim and spirit of democratic government. We are getting after them by fines, and sending some to prison. But what about the lawyers who help them? I don't mean the great mass of honorable lawyers. I mean the big and unhonorable lawyers. Their studies of justice and equity give them particular knowledge and a special perception to the matters of human relations involved. They cannot plead custom and inherited methods as their clients do. They know."

If Camille Flammarion's discoveries resulting from experiments with colored light prove to be all he claims, then the science of gardening may be revolutionized. With certain vegetables, as lettuce, growing under red light 15 times as fast as without it, with ripe fruit kept from decay under blue light for 20 days and strawberry plants retarded for that time, then allowed to blossom, there is no limit to the modifications and changes possible in plant and vegetable growth and their profits greatly increased. At the same time it is not well for them to be too sanguine until the discoveries have been thoroughly tested. It is to be remembered that blue light had no such curative effect on the nervous diseases of human beings as it was announced many years ago on scientific authority that it would have; nor has the Finsen red light produced the results first promised for it in the cure of cutaneous diseases. But with the hint given by Flammarion tests with plants may be easily made.

Because the daily news is about human beings and is collected and edited by human beings, it is rich to whoever reads it with a philosophical eye. The New York Globe puts into one paragraph events selected from two days of "news," and concludes that human nature has not lost its capacity for originality. These are some of the "events": "A Russian who had lost his sweetheart, and answered 'Freda' to every question put to him, was on that account arrested as a burglar. An automobilist, to save a child, ran his automobile into a pile of bricks, thereby endangering the lives of two who were driving with him. A mother found her son trying to hang himself, and used the rope to give him a thrashing. Thieves ran away with a Thanksgiving turkey; the owner, a woman of 50, mounted a bicycle, gave chase and recovered the bird." The trivial events of the human drama make interesting vaudeville.

The coin-collector is always alert. Within a day or two of the announcement that the government had stopped coining the new Saint-Gaudens double-eagles the coins were selling at a premium of six dollars apiece, and a few days later this bonus had advanced to $10, so that each twenty-dollar gold piece was held at $30. Meanwhile the collectors carefully enter in their records the history of the coin and how many were minted, for the guidance of those who come after them. Twenty-dollar gold pieces have always been hard coins to collect. The premium imposes an added and discouraging burden.

A Chicago judge has ruled that it is as much the father's duty to walk the floor at night with the baby as the mother's. The average man is content to allow his wife to act as the court of last resort on such matters.

There is in St. Louis a lady who says she always gives her favorite poet a substantial check on Christmas. She is probably the only lady extant whose favorite poet is still in a position to find checks useful.

NEW STYLE OF OMELET.

Add This to Your List of Breakfast Dainties.

Sift together a scant gill of flour and one and a half tablespoons powdered sugar; also a pinch of salt. Stir smooth with one-half pint cold milk. Strain and add one-half lemon rind, and cook to a thick paste which will free itself from the sides of the pan. Cool it a little and add five whole yolks one by one. Then stir in very gently the stiffly beaten whites of six eggs. Put into the omelet pan two tablespoons butter, melt it, and pour in the omelet, and turn out the gas flame. Let it stand three minutes, then put in the oven from eight to ten minutes till the top begins to dry. Butter a large piece of paper, put it on a tin cover, and invert the omelet pan on it, turning out the omelet. In the pan heat another tablespoon butter, slide the paper into the pan, omelet up, and put in the oven five or six minutes more. Heat a large jar of apricot jam or orange marmalade. Remove the omelet from the pan, fold it, and lifting it up very gently, fill it with the warm jam or marmalade. Sprinkle the top with powdered sugar and glaze on the grill.

TO KEEP ROOMS "PICKED UP."

Use of Scrap Baskets Will Save Much Time and Labor.

Have a scrap basket in each room. By so doing you will find that even the children will drop scraps of paper and waste matter into them. You will be saved the countless steps to the kitchen stove, or wherever is the final receptacle of your rubbish that you are accustomed to make. You will be relieved of the tiresome task of bobbing up and down picking up the little pieces of thread, scraps of paper, bits of lint and dirt that are unconsciously dropped upon the floor or table for the want of a place to put them. Then when you tidy up in the morning you can start right in with your sweeping and dusting without first going through that awful "picking up" ordeal. Take one scrap basket and empty all others into it and dispose of it all at once. Very simple scrap baskets may be made by cutting out pieces of cardboard and covering with pretty wall paper or cheap denim and tying together with ribbons.

FOR HOP YEAST CAKES.

Easy Way to Have Useful Material Always on Hand.

Boil two handfuls hops in two quarts water until reduced to three pints. Strain the liquor and return to the pot. Thicken with one cupful of wheat flour mixed smooth with a little cold water. Let boil three or four minutes, then add six medium-sized potatoes, freshly boiled and mashed. Let the whole stand until lukewarm, then strain, add a cupful good yeast and set where it will keep lukewarm. When frothy, add a tablespoonful salt, stir in a little wheat flour and enough Indian meal to enable you to roll dough about an inch thick. Cut into small round cakes, spread on shallow platters and dry in a shady airy place. Turn twice a day while drying. When perfectly dry and hard, put in a paper or cloth bag, tie tightly, and hang in a cool, dry place. When you wish to use them for bread, soak in lukewarm water until soft. One will be sufficient to make three or four loaves of bread.

Tea Punch.

Put four tablespoons Ceylon, English breakfast or green tea into a bowl, turn over it a quart of boiling water, cover and let it infuse on the back of the stove for ten minutes. Strain, add two pounds of sugar, let dissolve and boil for three minutes; then set aside for several hours. Two hours before serving the punch add the juice of half a dozen lemons and three oranges, a can of shredded pineapple and another of preserved strawberries or cherries pitted. Add a pint of grape juice, two large bananas sliced; half a dozen oranges, sliced, and a teaspoonful each bitter almond, vanilla and rose water. Just before serving add three quarts mineral water and pour over a block of ice in the punch bowl.

Baked Veal Steak.

Order a slice of veal steak cut three-fourths of an inch thick. Butter a dripping pan and sprinkle it with salt and pepper and a bit of finely chopped onion. Lay the steak on this. Sprinkle the top with salt, pepper, chopped onion, and a few bits of butter. Bake for 30 minutes in a moderate oven. Remove to a hot platter. Add to the pan two level tablespoonsful of butter. When melted add two tablespoonsful of flour and stir in gradually one cup and a quarter of boiling water. Season with salt and pepper, cook three minutes, then strain it over the veal. Garnish with parsley.

Yellow Fashionable.

An unusual number of yellow dresses are shown among the exclusive winter designs, a fact which is accounted for by the French love of things artistic. They say that yellow is the color of artists, and certainly it could not be used more effectively on canvas or palette than it is employed by the best dressmakers of Paris.

Vanilla Wafers.

One-third cup butter, one cup sugar, one egg, 1 1/4 cups milk, two cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon of salt, two teaspoons vanilla. Cream the butter, add sugar and egg, well beaten, and milk and vanilla. Add dry ingredients to liquid. Roll thin, cut and bake in hot oven.

Effects of the Trade. "A shoemaker is a poor sort of creature." "Why so?" "Because he is by trade a heeler, and there is not a time when he is not willing to sell his sole." "But you must admit he has one virtue." "What is it?" "He will stick to the last."

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Laugh and Grow Fat; No. There is nothing in the maxim "laugh and grow fat" or else the joke-smiths fail to grow mirthful over their own merry-making.

Great humorists seldom are fat. F. P. Dunne is the heaviest, weighing about 160 pounds. The weight of others living is: Mark Twain, 150 pounds; George Ade, 147; Jerome K. Jerome, 143, and W. W. Jacobs, 132. O. Henry is really a great humorist, but he is in the 180-pound class.—Home Magazine.

A Remedy for Neuralgia or Pain in the Nerves.

For neuralgia and sciatica Sloan's Liniment has no equal. It has a powerful sedative effect on the nerves—penetrates without rubbing and gives immediate relief from pain—quickens the circulation of the blood and gives a pleasant sensation of comfort and warmth.

"For three years I suffered with neuralgia in the head and jaws," writes J. P. Hubbard, of Marietta, S. C., "and had almost decided to have three of my teeth pulled, when a friend recommended me to buy a 25 cent bottle of Sloan's Liniment. I did so and experienced immediate relief, and I kept on using it until the neuralgia was entirely cured. I will never be without a bottle of Sloan's Liniment in my house again. I use it also for insect bites and sore throat, and I can cheerfully recommend it to any one who suffers from any of the ills I have mentioned."

Chickens in the Snowball.

Several boys at Tusten, Sullivan county, started a ball of snow rolling down a hill, and it went flying through Farmer Schneider's chicken coop. The big ball gathered up nine of Schneider's fat hens. With the poultry packed into the ball, legs and heads of chickens sticking out of the mass, it rolled farther and brought up in the barnyard of the next farmer, on the opposite side of the Tusten turnpike, where the pigs ate five of the chickens.—Port Jervis dispatch to the N. Y. World.

Too Interesting to Bury.

There is a certain little southern girl who is very fond of her negro mammy. The nurse's name is Sally, and she is a large woman, so she is known as Big Sally. Ethel, however, calls her "Biggie" for short. One day her mother took her to a museum, where, among other things, there were some stuffed animals. Ethel was greatly interested, and for many days she did not tire of talking about them. Perhaps a week later, at the supper table, after a preoccupied silence, she said:

"Mamma, when Biggie dies I'm not going to have her buried; I'm going to have her stuffed!"

PANTRY CLEANED

A Way Some People Have.

A doctor said:—"Before marriage my wife observed in summer and country homes, coming in touch with families of varied means, culture, tastes and discriminating tendencies, that the families using Postum seemed to average better than those using coffee."

"When we were married two years ago, Postum was among our first order of groceries. We also put in some coffee and tea for guests, but after both had stood around the pantry about a year untouched, they were thrown away, and Postum used only."

"Up to the age of 28 I had been accustomed to drink coffee as a routine habit and suffered constantly from indigestion and all its relative disorders. Since using Postum all the old complaints have completely left me and I sometimes wonder if I ever had them."

Sorrowing Widow Had to Have Picture by Which to Remember Hubby.

To be exhumed after he had been buried for 20 days and told to sit up and "look pleasant" was the tough luck that befell a corpse out at Woodlawn cemetery, New York, the other day. Henry Brown, a train dispatcher on the One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street elevated road, died December 6 of rheumatic gout and was buried decently and in order. Some two weeks after the funeral it occurred to Mrs. Brown that she would like a photograph of her husband, having none that did him justice. Immediately she petitioned the Bronx health department for permission to exhume Henry and snapshot him. The health department was somewhat dazed, but granted the request, and so, with a photographer and an undertaker, Mrs. Brown went to Woodlawn and had the three weeks' corpse dug up. Brown was taken both profile and full face.

Mrs. Alvina Sperling, of 154 Claybourne Ave., Chicago, Ill., writes: "I suffered from female troubles, a tumor and much inflammation. Two of the best doctors in Chicago decided that an operation was necessary to save my life. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound entirely cured me without an operation."

DISPUTE REFERRED TO COURT

Is in High Spirits After Siege of Sixty Hours, Subsisting on Smuggled Food.

San Antonio Tex. Feb. 13—Miss Adina De Zavala vacated the Alamo property this evening at 6 o'clock, but she in no sense surrendered. She came out with colors flying and only after the foe had agreed to submit the question in controversy to arbitration by the courts of Texas.

She never left the Alamo at all until after the two deputy sheriffs who have been on guard departed from the building and left her in undisputed possession. She then made a formal transfer of the property to Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds Day, who will hold the property in the name of the governor until such time as the suit at Houston is finally decided by the courts with both parties to the controversy agreeing to abide the result.

The demand of Mrs. De Zavala that the San Antonio suit be included was dropped on the understanding that the Houston case would be brought to a speedy trial. While the date has not been fixed it is agreed by both parties that neither will ask for a continuance but that the trial shall take place at the earliest possible time.

The attorneys at Houston, Lane, Jackson Kelley and Wolters, who represent Mrs. Rebecca J. Fisher, would not agree to include the San Antonio suit in the agreement stating that they knew nothing of the questions at issue here. They did agree however that the Houston case would be given a speedy trial.

One of the contentions of Miss De Zavala was that after repeated efforts she had not succeeded in getting the Houston case tried. The agreement for a speedy trial met her approval and the agreement was signed.

The matters will now be carried into the courts and a long and bitter fight will result.

Superintendent Day is now in possession. He arranged for a watchman for the building and after conferring with the governor will decide as to its disposition pending a settlement in the courts.

Is in High Spirits.

Despite her long vigil in the Alamo Miss De Zavala left in high spirits. She was rather begrimed from exposure and rather faint from lack of food but was brave and defiant. Her food today up to the time she left consisted of only oranges, which were smuggled her this morning by her attorney Nelson Lytle. Miss De Zavala received many telegrams from over the state and the United States congratulating her on her stand.

The following telegram was received signed by John B. Adams a descendant of President John Adams.

Miss De Zavala, in the Alamo. Win or lose we congratulate you upon your splendid patriotism and courage. We are proud of you Texas should be Mrs. Wharton Bates wired as follows.

Do not surrender the Alamo unless the others turn over the church. Hold your ground unless all is satisfactory.

The Post-Dispatch, one of the leading afternoon papers of St. Louis, also wired as follows.

Miss Adina De Zavala, Commandant of the Alamo. Will you send through the Post-Dispatch a message to the women of St. Louis who are watching with great interest your own gallant defense of the Alamo.

After leaving the Alamo Miss De Zavala said:

"I did not surrender. I merely left matters in dispute to arbitration. The opposing faction had vacated the property and withdrew their armed depots before I turned it over to Superintendent Day."

Tillotson Offers for Senator Davis Bill Providing for Gross Receipts Tax.

Guthrie Feb. 13—The house adopted more than half of the several appropriation bills in the committee the whole this afternoon and the figures as reported in the bill were sustained save in two instances.

The stenographer in the governor's office was reduced from $1,200 to $1,000 per year and the chief clerk to the corporation commission who was provided for at the rate of $2,000 per annum was lowered to $1,800. This position is held by J. B. Chapman, secretary of the present lame-duck state committee and secretary of the committee during the last state campaign.

The salaries in general compared with the state of Kansas are some lower, while slightly higher in some instances than those of Texas. In various attempts to lower the pay of stenographers their work was compared with that of school teachers, who it was stated only received $40 per month and with farm hands who could only command $25 per month. Mr. Norvell of Tulsa wanted to make the place in the governor's office pay only $60 per month as it was a steady job and he stated that the governor had said to him that he was in favor of the strictest economy retrenchment and reform. Mr. Murray objected to a rehearsal of what the governor was alleged to have said.

"The governor," Mr. Murray stated, "has the advantages of the executive message and it is presumed that he will communicate with the legislature in that way and not by having his conversations repeated."

At this juncture Miss Kate Barnard, State Commissioner of Charities and Correction, appeared on the floor of the house moving from seat to seat with an appropriation bill in her hand.

Speaker Murray read the rule against state officers lobbying and announced that it would be enforced. An amendment giving to the lieutenant governor a stenographer at $900 per year was defeated.

Gross Receipts Tax.

Among the bills offered in the house was one by Mr. Tillotson for Senator Davis levying a gross revenue tax upon public service and other corporations. It is proposed to tax express companies 2 1/2 per cent, telegraph companies 2 3/4 per cent, electric light and gas companies 1-4 of 1 per cent, collecting and commercial agencies 1-2 of 1 per cent, stock car companies 3 per cent, gas pipe lines 2 per cent, sleeping car companies 5 per cent, insurance companies and companies running coal and mineral oils 2 per cent, electric car lines 3-4 of 1 per cent, gas and oil wells 1-2 of 1 per cent, and business houses selling pistols 50 per cent on the goods sold.

After a somewhat spirited debate the senate passed the concurrent resolution by Senator Graham extending the time until July 1 for requiring railroads to equip their depots according to the jim crow law. The law as approved by the governor on Dec. 18 became effective Feb. 16. In support of the resolution it was stated that the change would cost the railroads $250,000 which in itself was enough to show the undertaking was a great one.

In opposing the resolution, Senator Billups charged that the railroads had already reduced their service in Oklahoma and relieved the people of inconveniences in order to make sentiment against stringent control by the state.

The senate voted down amendments to make the extension until May 1 and June 1.

Headlight Bill.

Final passage was also obtained upon the Franklin-Roddie bill requiring railroads to equip their engines with 1,500-candlepower electric headlights. Senator Franklin's statement that the bill was "partly from Arkansas, partly from Texas, partly from Oklahoma, but none from Kansas" drew much

HASKELL MURRAY CRUCE.

The political precepts in the more positive forces and far reaching effects in the nation today in fact and in spirit are more distinctly portrayed and more significantly exploited in the measures written in the constitution of the State of Oklahoma than elsewhere on earth. Students of the national trend and political attitude of affairs will award the correctness of this assertion. Of the two national political conventions which meet this summer to draft a platform of principles and select the party's standard bearers, in the common event of things, the one more nearly embodying the principles of kindred to the precepts obtaining in Oklahoma's constitution and more nearly selecting that man in sympathy with such provisions would be the party enthroned in power by the voice of the people of the nation. If the electorate of the nation untrammelled and afforded opportunity to employ their minds in dispassionate consideration of the problems of which the proper settlement concern most vitally their future welfare, it is a dead moral clinch that the foregoing conclusions are correct and sound. Bryan, the democratic and unsubsidized press of the United States, the democratic statesman in and out of congress with one accord acclaim the greatness of Oklahoma's charter of liberty—its constitution, and that the application of its basic principles, the privileges of the people to rule, should indelibly mark the policies formulated at the national democratic convention as will be conveyed to the people through the platform of the party. On account of Oklahoma's constitution and the capable administration of affairs of the state today, the great young commonwealth through its accredited delegations will appear giant-like at the national democratic convention at Denver this summer.

When the state democratic convention meets at Muskogee on the 22nd inst., there is most obviously a duty which should be construed a privilege, that it will be afforded the opportunity to perform, and that is the selection of the two principal constructors and defenders of Oklahoma's constitution, the Hon. Wm. H. Murray and Governor C. N. Haskell, as delegates at large to the national convention. The advocacy of the selection of these two remarkable men as part of the state delegation in no wise reflects contemptuously or even suggests that the most regardful and honoring consideration is not held for numbers and numbers of capable, militant democrats who have been strong factors in the promotion of the welfare of the party of the state and all worthy things which make demand. There is the Hon. J. B. Thompson, chairman of the state democratic campaign committee, than whom no man is entitled to more substantial reward on account of his services in behalf of statehood and the party. The intelligence with which he conducted the affairs of the party during the campaign justly entitles him to leading party preferment. If he chose, he should be selected one of the delegates at large or presidential elector at large. He is clearly within the class to run at large.

The city of Ardmore has a candidate again in the person of the Hon. J. B. Thompson. There is no man outside of Pontotoc county who holds the confidence and good will of her people more strongly than Lee Cruce. In the democratic primaries he beat Haskell for governor in this county, even over the protest of the News. His conduct subsequent to the primaries has been such as to entrench him more firmly in the regard of our people. The News, as it sees the light, without any political axes to grind or sugar bowl extended, believes the Pontotoc county convention should recommend to the state convention that three of the delegates at large be composed in the honorable personages of C. N. Haskell, Wm. H. Murray and Lee Cruce.

It has been rumored that some discontent had appeared in certain quarters over the proposal to send men to the national convention already the recipient of party favors and at present established in office. Such discontent is unfounded. William H. Murray is the resident of our neighbor county on the south. If he had not earned favorable recognition on account of his public acts the length and breadth of the country, and within this state if there had not been implanted in the hearts of its honest yeomanry, up-governed by political jealousies and contentions, a wholesome regard for him based on their comprehension of his great and valuable attainments in their behalf, the fact that he is our neighbor firmly established as one of the staunch farmer citizens of our neighbor counties should, alone, award the most friendly consideration of his name when it shall be presented to the Pontotoc convention. Bill Murray is not a candidate for delegate at large to the national convention. He is giving the devoted employment of an intensely active mind to the important duties of the speakership of the house of representatives.

It has always been the custom in the various states of the union when delegates to the national convention should be selected, to select from among the men of affairs within the party as delegates at large those citizens of the state, if any, who had become national political figures and were factors in the determination of those policies which should govern the party in the national party contests. Therefore it generally occurs that it is necessary to select the delegates at large from among the leading official representatives of the state, for it is they who ordinarily are naturally better acquainted with state craft and the general political exigencies. It is the imperative duty of the people to send to the national conventions those citizens of the strongest political grasp and of proven loyalty to their cause. A monumental responsibility involves on the delegates at a national democratic convention, for the permanent peace, prosperity and happiness of the people of a vast empire may be visibly dependent on the wisdom of their actions.

The News believes that Mr. Murray and Mr. Haskell should be selected by the state convention as delegates at large to Denver, even though they should advise their friends against promoting their candidacy. Even though the governor should stay away from Muskogee and ask that his name be withheld from the consideration of the convention, still, we believe it is a matter of party regard that he be elected. It would be a most becoming method of endorsement of the governor's administration until now which should worthily be endorsed by the convention. The measure of the regard of the editor that there be accomplished what is herein urged is based principally on his ambition to have Oklahoma, not only retain the splendid position she now occupies in the regard of the democracy of the nation, but to take advantage of its present enviable position by placing those citizens at the head of the democratic state delegation to whom is mainly due the distinction of establishing Oklahoma nationally so favorably, and who, on account of which, could establish the delegation from this new state one of the more influential ones in the national convention.

The motive of the editor of the News in advocating this earnestly the selection of Mr. Murray and Gov. Haskell as delegates at large to the national convention is produced because of his belief that such action is politically due the gentlemen and will reflect advantageously on the party of the state and even will help to promote the intelligent workings of the national convention. There is certainly no overwhelming personal regard for the governor and the speaker aiding my devoted political support and desire to see political justice obtain, for not much more than ordinary civility accompanies our interchange of greetings when we meet ourselves or our house have never asked from either direct or indirect political or personal favor.

It would not be characteristic of the broad minded fellows who will compose the county convention Saturday should they permit any prejudice or enmity based on the old primary fight to influence their actions when they come to vote on the resolution of endorsement of the men mentioned herein as delegates at large to the national convention. In all probability without a dissenting voice, the Hon. Tom D. McKeown will be endorsed by his county as a delegate to the national convention on to be selected from the district caucus of the 4th congressional district. There is not likely a man in the state any more certain to be selected by the state convention as delegate than Ada's candidate.

A POLISHED ADDRESS.

In giving an account of proceedings in the House on Wednesday the State Capital says this:

Hon. Henry Furman of Ada, was called on to close the addresses. He was heartily cheered as he came to the platform. His speech was one of the most polished efforts that has ever been heard on the floor. He declared that in the light of today's great pro-

perity, peace and happiness that both were right and that it "was for better thus."

He paid a splendid tribute to the glory of the American flag and declared that the greatest American institution was the unity of purpose and endeavor to build up a more splendid America, and pronounced patriotism to be the bulwark of American greatness.

The Hon. Henry Furman, is being boomed up the state for chairman of the state convention. Pontotoc county could not be more delighted to do any thing than boom "Uncle Henry" for any thing he could want or might take, but he does not want his name advanced by the county convention for any state position. He is one of the smiling ones of the rank.

Times were interesting in the house at Guthrie Thursday. Murray landed on a yellow newspaper reporter, Miss Barnard branded a lobbyist and Ashby Harrison, and the sergeant at arms got mad. All this smoke is a sign that the boys are alive, and good laws and wholesome laws are looked for.

The county convention will not be as the one met for like purpose four years ago and the good Lord forbid. The prospects are that the county convention will be a most harmonious one. This is as it should be.

Many of the county democratic delegates Saturday, as is the usual custom, will establish headquarters up at the News joint. They're always as welcome as the flowers in May.

The colon I had put up for the night at a wretched hotel in a village in the southwest, and when ready to leave in the morning he was handed a bill of three dollars. He was no kicker, just that thing seemed so much like robbery that he said: "Landlord, the meals I have eaten have been poor—very poor." "I don't dispute it," was the reply. "And the room was simply a rat hole." "Mighty poor room, sah." "And yet you have charged me just the same as if I had stopped at a first class hotel." "Yes, I had to do it." "And will you kindly explain?" persisted the colonel. "Well, it's like this, sah. I traded a sawmill for this tavern a month ago. I don't know nothing about the business and everybody says I'll fail and I know I will, but meantime I'm going to do the best I can. I can't better the rooms nor the food, but I can charge at the rate of three dollars a day and make every traveler think he's been putting in time at Waldorf-Astoria. Three dollars, please. No mistake about your bill, sah."

There was great rejoicing in the New Brooklyn church in Slickerville, N. J., when the last dollar of the debt against the parsonage was paid. The money was raised in a popular manner. Every female member of the church wrote a letter to all the boys that were her schoolmates in bygone days, no matter where they now lived, soliciting contributions. The men members likewise wrote to their schoolgirl sweethearts of long ago. Many a pleasant correspondence developed, and it is said some of the letters were calculated to revive the spark of affection that was kindled when the writers were youngsters, but as husbands and wives were allowed to read one another's letters not a case of jealousy is recorded. The money came in so fast that in a short time the entire debt was paid-off, and as the contributions are still coming in the parsonage will be brightened by a new coat of paint.

The political precepts in the more positive forces and far reaching effects in the nation today in fact and in spirit are more distinctly portrayed and more significantly exploited in the measures written in the constitution of the State of Oklahoma than elsewhere on earth. Students of the national trend and political attitude of affairs will award the correctness of this assertion. Of the two national political conventions which meet this summer to draft a platform of principles and select the party's standard bearers, in the common event of things, the one more nearly embodying the principles of kindred to the precepts obtaining in Oklahoma's constitution and more nearly selecting that man in sympathy with such provisions would be the party enthroned in power by the voice of the people of the nation. If the electorate of the nation untrammelled and afforded opportunity to employ their minds in dispassionate consideration of the problems of which the proper settlement concern most vitally their future welfare, it is a dead moral clinch that the foregoing conclusions are correct and sound. Bryan, the democratic and unsubsidized press of the United States, the democratic statesman in and out of congress with one accord acclaim the greatness of Oklahoma's charter of liberty—its constitution, and that the application of its basic principles, the privileges of the people to rule, should indelibly mark the policies formulated at the national democratic convention as will be conveyed to the people through the platform of the party. On account of Oklahoma's constitution and the capable administration of affairs of the state today, the great young commonwealth through its accredited delegations will appear giant-like at the national democratic convention at Denver this summer.

When the state democratic convention meets at Muskogee on the 22nd inst., there is most obviously a duty which should be construed a privilege, that it will be afforded the opportunity to perform, and that is the selection of the two principal constructors and defenders of Oklahoma's constitution, the Hon. Wm. H. Murray and Governor C. N. Haskell, as delegates at large to the national convention. The advocacy of the selection of these two remarkable men as part of the state delegation in no wise reflects contemptuously or even suggests that the most regardful and honoring consideration is not held for numbers and numbers of capable, militant democrats who have been strong factors in the promotion of the welfare of the party of the state and all worthy things which make demand. There is the Hon. J. B. Thompson, chairman of the state democratic campaign committee, than whom no man is entitled to more substantial reward on account of his services in behalf of statehood and the party. The intelligence with which he conducted the affairs of the party during the campaign justly entitles him to leading party preferment. If he chose, he should be selected one of the delegates at large or presidential elector at large. He is clearly within the class to run at large.

The city of Ardmore has a candidate again in the person of the Hon. Tom D. McKeown, who holds the confidence and good will of her people more strongly than Lee Cruce. In the democratic primaries he beat Haskell for governor in this county, even over the protest of the News. His conduct subsequent to the primaries has been such as to entrench him more firmly in the regard of our people. The News, as it sees the light, without any political axes to grind or sugar bowl extended, believes the Pontotoc county convention should recommend to the state convention that three of the delegates at large be composed in the honorable personages of C. N. Haskell, Wm. H. Murray and Lee Cruce.

It has been rumored that some discontent had appeared in certain quarters over the proposal to send men to the national convention already the recipient of party favors and at present established in office. Such discontent is unfounded. William H. Murray is the resident of our neighbor county on the south. If he had not earned favorable recognition on account of his public acts the length and breadth of the country, and within this state if there had not been implanted in the hearts of its honest yeomanry, up-governed by political jealousy and contentions, a wholesome regard for him based on their comprehension of his great and valuable attainments in their behalf, the fact that he is our neighbor firmly established as one of the staunch farmer citizens of our neighbor counties should, alone, award the most friendly consideration of his name when it shall be presented to the Pontotoc convention. Bill Murray is not a candidate for delegate at large to the national convention. He is giving the devoted employment of an intensely active mind to the important duties of the speakership of the house of representatives.

It has always been the custom in the various states of the union when delegates to the national convention should be selected, to select from among the men of affairs within the party as delegates at large those citizens of the state, if any, who had become national political figures and were factors in the determination of those policies which should govern the party in the national party contests. Therefore it generally occurs that it is necessary to select the delegates at large from among the leading official representatives of the state, for it is they who ordinarily are naturally better acquainted with state craft and the general political exigencies. It is the imperative duty of the people to send to the national conventions those citizens of the strongest political grasp and of proven loyalty to their cause. A monumental responsibility involves on the delegates at a national democratic convention, for the permanent peace, prosperity and happiness of the people of a vast empire may be visibly dependent on the wisdom of their actions.

The News believes that Mr. Murray and Mr. Haskell should be selected by the state convention as delegates at large to Denver, even though they should advise their friends against promoting their candidacy. Even though the governor should stay away from Muskogee and ask that his name be withheld from the consideration of the convention, still, we believe it is a matter of party regard that he be elected. It would be a most becoming method of endorsement of the governor's administration until now which should worthily be endorsed by the convention. The measure of the regard of the editor that there be accomplished what is herein urged is based principally on his ambition to have Oklahoma, not only retain the splendid position she now occupies in the regard of the democracy of the nation, but to take advantage of its present enviable position by placing those citizens at the head of the democratic state delegation to whom is mainly due the distinction of establishing Oklahoma nationally so favorably, and who, on account of which, could establish the delegation from this new state one of the more influential ones in the national convention.

The motive of the editor of the News in advocating this earnestly the selection of Mr. Murray and Gov. Haskell as delegates at large to the national convention is produced because of his belief that such action is politically due the gentlemen and will reflect advantageously on the party of the state and even will help to promote the intelligent workings of the national convention. There is certainly no overwhelming personal regard for the governor and the speaker aiding my devoted political support and desire to see political justice obtain, for not much more than ordinary civility accompanies our interchange of greetings when we meet ourselves or our house have never asked from either direct or indirect political or personal favor.

It would not be characteristic of the broad minded fellows who will compose the county convention Saturday should they permit any prejudice or enmity based on the old primary fight to influence their actions when they come to vote on the resolution of endorsement of the men mentioned herein as delegates at large to the national convention. In all probability without a dissenting voice, the Hon. Tom D. McKeown will be endorsed by his county as a delegate to the national convention on to be selected from the district caucus of the 4th congressional district. There is not likely a man in the state any more certain to be selected by the state convention as delegate than Ada's candidate.

A POLISHED ADDRESS.

In giving an account of proceedings in the House on Wednesday the State Capital says this:

Hon. Henry Furman of Ada, was called on to close the addresses. He was heartily cheered as he came to the platform. His speech was one of the most polished efforts that has ever been heard on the floor. He declared that in the light of today's great pros-

Contest.

Those participating in the News subscription contest are the more popular ladies in their respective towns and communities. Of course they would deny such soft impeachment, but the News editors have been informed by their respective neighbors that such is the fact. The editors are delighted to know that such a list of popular young ladies are to become interested in the News subscription contest and every courtesy possible will be extended them. The News is glad to know that the premiums for which they are contesting are valuable—valuable enough, some of them, to afford a real start in life, nothing is too good for the young ladies and the friends of the Ada News.

Each week the names and votes of all the contestants will be published on the front page. The contest judges are Governor Wm. L. Byrd, Judge W. G. Currie and the Hon. Henry M. Furman.

What About Lawyers?

A contributor to The Pilgrims Serp in the American Magazine says: At each turn in the complicated finance of business the dim but definite trail of a lawyer may be seen. Each investigation brings out clearly that at some point in deals or contracts or arrangements that evade or break laws one or more lawyers were in active operation devising ways and means to give these operations a specious appearance of legality or cover up their real meaning. In some cases as in the Standard Oil investigation distinguished lawyers boast before the open court of their ingenuity in defeating the purpose of the laws of the United States. In the Metropolitan investigation you will find that every one of those schemes that have deceived or robbed the stockholders and the public was invented by a great lawyer and for a huge fee. Abraham Mel the criminal lawyer was distinguished for winning practices. What is the Bar association going to do about these others? We have found that it is not the low criminals in jobs (those who buy the privilege to enter to vice) who are the real corruptors. It is the men of power who have huge game and by whose assistance the lower ones live who are defeating the aim and spirit of democratic government. We are getting after them by fines and sending some to prison. But what about the lawyers who help them? I don't mean in the great mass of honorable lawyers. I mean the big and honorable lawyers. Their studies of justice and equity give them particular knowledge and a special perception to the matters of human relations involved. They cannot plead custom and inherited methods as their clients do. They know.

It can be demonstrated that over the results of our experiments with colored light prove to be all the claims that the science of gardening may be revolutionized. With certain vegetables as lettuce growing under red light 1 time as fast as without it with time in 10 days and strawberry plants started for that time then allowed to blossom there is no limit to the modifications and changes possible in plant and vegetable growth and their plants greatly increased. At the same time it is not well for them to be too sanguine until the discoveries have been thoroughly tested. It is to be remembered that blue light had no such curative effect on the nervous diseases of human beings as it was announced many years ago on scientific authority that it would have nor has the Kinsen red light produced the results first promised for it in the cure of cutaneous diseases. But with the hint given by Flammarion tests with plants may be easily made.

Because the daily news is about human beings and is collected and edited by human beings it is rich to whoever reads it with a philosophical eye. The New York Globe puts into one paragraph events selected from two days of news and concludes that human nature has not lost its capacity for originality. These are some of the events. A Russian who had lost his sweetheart and answered Freda to every question put to him was on that account arrested as a burglar. An automobilist to save a child ran his automobile into a pile of bricks thereby endangering the lives of two who were driving with him. A mother found her son trying to hang himself and used the rope to give him a thrashing. Thieves ran away with a Thanksgiving turkey the owner a woman of 50 mounted a bicycle gave chase and recovered the bird. The trivial events of the human drama make interesting vaudeville.

The coin collector is always alert. Within a day or two of the announcement that the government had stopped coining the new Saint Gaudens double eagles the coins were selling at a premium of six dollars apiece and a few days later this bonus had advanced to $10 so that each twenty dollar gold piece was held at $30. Meanwhile the collectors carefully enter in their records the history of the coin and how many were minted for the guidance of those who come after them. Twenty dollar gold pieces have always been hard coins to collect. The premium imposes an added and discouraging burden.

A Chicago judge has ruled that it is as much the father's duty to walk the floor at night with the baby as the mother's. The average man is content to allow his wife to act as the court of last resort on such matters.

There is in St. Louis a lady who says she always gives her favorite poet a substantial check on Christmas. She is probably the only lady extant whose favorite poet is still in a position to find checks useful.

NEW STYLE OF OMELET

Add This to Your List of Breakfast Dainties.

Sift together a scant gill of flour and one and a half tablespoons powdered sugar also a pinch of salt. Strain and add one half pint cold milk and beat to a thick paste which will free itself from the sides of the pan. Cool it a little and add five whole yolks one by one. Then stir in very gently the stiffly beaten whites of six eggs. Put into the omelet pan two tablespoons butter melt it and pour in the omelet and turn on the gas flame. Let it stand three minutes then put in the over from eight to ten minutes till the top begins to fry. Butter a large piece of paper put it on a tin cover and invert the omelet pan on it turning out the omelet. In the pan heat another tablespoon butter slide the paper into the pan omelet up and put in the oven five or six minutes more. Heat a large jar of apricot jam or orange marmalade. Remove the omelet from the pan fold it and lifting it up very gently fill it with the warm jam or marmalade. Sprinkle the top with powdered sugar and glaze on the grill.

TO KEEP ROOMS PICKED UP

Use of Scrap Baskets Will Save Much Time and Labor

Have a scrap basket in each room. By so doing you will find that even the children will drop scraps of paper and waste matter into them. You will be saved the countless steps to the kitchen on stove or wherever is the final receptacle of your rubbish that you are accustomed to make. You will be relieved of the tiresome task of bobbing up and down picking up the little pieces of thread scraps of paper bits of lint and dirt that are unconsciously dropped upon the floor or table for the want of a place to put them. Then when you tidy up in the morning you can start right in with you sweeping and dusting without first going through that awful picking up outfit. Take one scrap basket and empty it all at once. Very simple. Scrap baskets may be made by cutting out pieces of cardboard and covering with pretty wall paper or cheap denim and tying with ribbons.

FOR HOP YEAST CAKES

Easy Way to Have Useful Material Always on Hand

Put two handfuls hops in two quart water until reduced to three pints. Strain the liquid and return to the pot. Thicken with one cupful of white flour mixed smooth with a little cold water. Let boil three or four minutes then add six medium sized potatoes freshly boiled and mashed. Let the whole stand until lukewarm then strain and add a cupful good yeast and set where it will keep lukewarm. When frothy add a tablespoonful salt and a little wheat flour and enough Indian meal to enable you to roll dough about an inch thick.

Cut into small round cakes spread on shallow platters and dry in a shady place. Turn twice a day while drying. When perfectly dry and hard put in a paper or cloth bag tied tight and hang in a cool dry place. When you wish to use them for bread soak in lukewarm water until soft. One will be sufficient to make three or four loaves of bread.

Yellow Fashionable

An unusual number of yellow dresses are shown among the exclusive winter designs a fact which is accounted for by the French love of things artistic. They say that yellow is the color of artists and certainly it could not be used more effectively on canvas or palette than it is employed by the best dressmakers of Paris.

Vanilla Wafers

Effects of the Trade

"A shoemaker is a poor sort of creature."
"Why so?"
"Because he is by trade a heeler, and there is not a time when he is not willing to sell his sole."
"But you must admit he has one virtue."
"What is it?"
"He will stick to the last."

Laugh and Grow Fat, No

There is nothing in the maxim "laugh and grow fat" or else the joke smiths fail to grow rich over their own merry-making.
Great humorists seldom are fat. P. Dunne is the heaviest weighing about 160 pounds. The weight of others living is Mark Twain 140 pounds, George Ade 147, Jerome K. Jerome 143 and W. W. Jacobs 132. O. Henry is really a great humorist but he is in the 180 pound class—Home Magazine.

A Remedy for Neuralgia or Pain in the Nerves

For neuralgia and sciatica Sloan's Liniment has no equal. It has a powerfully sedative effect on the nerves—penetrates without rubbing and gives immediate relief from pain—quickens the circulation of the blood and gives a pleasant sensation of comfort and warmth.

For three years I suffered with neuralgia in the head and jaws writes J. P. Hubbard of Marietta, S. C. and had almost decided to have three of my teeth pulled when a friend recommended me to buy a 25 cent bottle of Sloan's Liniment. I did so and experienced immediate relief and I kept on using it until the neuralgia was entirely cured. I will never be without a bottle of Sloan's Liniment in my house again. I use it also for insect bites and sore throat and I can cheerfully recommend it to any one who suffers from any of the ills I have mentioned.

Chickens in the Snowball

Several boys at Tusten Sullivan county started a ball of snow rolling down a hill and it went flying through Farmer Schneider's chicken coop. The big ball gathered up nine of the Schneiders' fat hens. With the poultry packed into the ball legs and heads of chickens sticking out of the mass it rolled farther and brought up in the barnyard of the next farmer, on the opposite side of the Tusten turnpike where the pigs ate five of the chickens—Port Jervis dispatch to the N. Y. World.

Too Interesting to Bury

There is a certain little southern girl who is very fond of her negro mammy. The nurse's name is Sally and she is a large woman so she is known as Big Sally. Ethel however calls her Biggie for short. One day her mother took her to a museum where among other things there were some stuffed animals. Ethel was greatly interested and for many days she did not tire of talking about them. Perhaps a week later at the supper table after a preoccupied silence she said:

Mamma when Biggie dies I'm not going to have her buried I'm going to have her stuffed!

PANTRY CLEANED

A Way Some People Have.

A doctor said—
"Before marriage my wife observed in summer and country homes coming in touch with families of varied means, culture, tastes and discriminating tendencies that the families using Postum seemed to average better than those using coffee."
"When we were married two years ago, Postum was among our first order of groceries. We also put in some coffee and tea for guests but after both had stood around the pantry about a year untouched they were thrown away, and Postum used only."
"Up to the age of 28 I had been accustomed to drink coffee as a routine habit and suffered constantly from indigestion and all its relative disorders. Since using Postum all the old complaints have completely left me and I sometimes wonder if I ever had them!"

We hear began the reporter that you are to marry Blobb the millionaire. Won't you give us the details?

Sure replied the obliging actress. I like these things to be exact. Get out your notebook. I do not know Blobb but I have heard of him and understand he has a wife. I am myself happily married. I do not believe in divorce or bigamy. I would not if free marry a divorced man. I would not marry Blobb if we were both free and he was the last man on earth.

Sorrowing Widow Had to Have Picture by Which to Remember Hubby.

To be exhumed after he had been buried for 20 days and told to sit up and look pleasant was the rough luck that befell a corpse out at Woodlawn cemetery New York, the other day. Henry Brown a train dispatcher on the One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street elevated road died December 6 of rheumatic gout and was buried decently and in order. Some two weeks after the funeral it occurred to Mrs. Brown that she would like a photograph of her husband, having none that did him justice. Immediately she petitioned the Bronx health department for permission to exhume Henry and snapshot him. The health department was somewhat dazed but granted the request, and so with a photographer and an undertaker Mrs. Brown went to Woodlawn and had the three weeks' corpse dug up. Brown was taken both profile and full face.
